In- Class Exercise – JS Output (innerHTML)

INSTRUCTIONS:  - Read the statements below and perform the tasks.

1. Open your template.html document, Save As: JSOutput_inner.html

2. Add a header element (use the largest size) with the following content Welcome to CS211. Give your header element an id "mhead"

3. Add a paragraph element with the following content This is a p element. Give your p element an id "mpara"

4. Add a div element with the following content This is a div element. Give your div element an id "mdiv"

5. Use a <button> tag for each of the following:

   a. Find an HTML element (with id="mhead") and change the element content (innerHTML) to "Welcome to JavaScript".

   b. Find an HTML element (with id="mpara") and change the element content (innerHTML) to "JavaScript Introduction".

   c. Find an HTML element (with id="mdiv") and change the element content (innerHTML) to "How To?".

Example:

<button type="button" onclick="document.getElementById("give it an id").innerHTML = "Enter Text to Change Here"">Click Me!</button>