

- As indicated in the Guam Community College Board of Trustees Membership Handbook, the Board of Trustees shall “communicate and promote the needs of the community to the College and the needs of the College to the community.” The Board should, therefore, convene an annual or bi-annual meeting where they can meet with various advisory groups, as well as faculty and administrators, to gauge the pulse of the campus community and in the process, discuss mutual concerns regarding community and College needs.
- Implement a mentorship program for new Board members where an existing Board member serves as a mentor.
- Conduct periodic joint courtesy visits by Board members and the President with key members of the government (local and federal) to ensure that GCC remains visible in the community.
