

T5: Product Specifications-Test

* Required

✓ The first step in developing and implementing product specifications is to * 3 / 3

- ☐ learn about available products
- ☒ determine needed products ✓
- ☐ match available products with needed products
- ☐ create a draft of the product specification form

✗ The final step in implementing product specifications is * 0 / 3

- ☐ to get approval from owner or higher level management
- ☐ send the specification to potential vendors
- ☒ use the specifications when receiving products ✗
- ☐ request advice about specification from staff

Correct answer

- ☒ send the specification to potential vendors

Add individual feedback

✗ List alternative products that an operation will accept if an order can't be filled. * 0 / 3

- ☐ Size
- ☐ Brand name
- ☐ Acceptable substitute
- ☒ Intended use ✗

Correct answer

- ☒ Acceptable substitute

Add individual feedback

✗ Specify some items in exact weight. *

0 / 3

- ☐ Market form
- ☐ Acceptable trim
- ☐ Size
- ☒ Packaging

Correct answer

- ☒ Size

Add individual feedback

✓ Green and red bell peppers are an example of this type of specification. *

3 / 3

- ☒ Color
- ☐ Market form
- ☐ Size
- ☐ USDA grade of the item

Add individual feedback

✗ Fresh, frozen, and canned is an example of which type of specification? *

0 / 3

- ☐ Brand name
- ☐ Color
- ☒ Temperature
- ☐ Market form

Correct answer

- ☒ Market form

Add individual feedback

✓ Heinz or Del Monte ketchup is an example of which type of specification? *

3 / 3

☒ Brand name

☐ Exact name

☐ Market form

☐ Place of origin

Add individual feedback

✗ Maine lobster is an example of which type of specification? *

0 / 3

☐ Brand name

☐ Place of origin

☒ Exact name

☐ Market form

Correct answer

☒ Place of origin

Add individual feedback

✓ Well written product specifications prevent purchasers from receiving low-quality or wrong items. *

3 / 3

☒ True

☐ False

Add individual feedback