

T5: Product Specifications-Test

* Required

✓ The first step in developing and implementing product specifications is to * 3 / 3

- ☐ learn about available products
- ☒ determine needed products ✓
- ☐ match available products with needed products
- ☐ create a draft of the product specification form

Add individual feedback

✓ The final step in implementing product specifications is * 3 / 3

- ☐ to get approval from owner or higher level management
- ☒ send the specification to potential vendors ✓
- ☐ use the specifications when receiving products
- ☐ request advice about specification from staff

Add individual feedback

✓ List alternative products that an operation will accept if an order can't be filled. * 3 / 3

- ☐ Size
- ☐ Brand name
- ☒ Acceptable substitute ✓
- ☐ Intended use

Add individual feedback

✓ Specify some items in exact weight. *

3 / 3

☐ Market form

☐ Acceptable trim

☒ Size

☐ Packaging

Add individual feedback

✓ Green and red bell peppers are an example of this type of specification. *

3 / 3

☒ Color

☐ Market form

☐ Size

☐ USDA grade of the item

Add individual feedback

✓ Fresh, frozen, and canned is an example of which type of specification? *

3 / 3

☐ Brand name

☐ Color

☐ Temperature

☒ Market form

Add individual feedback

✓ Heinz or Del Monte ketchup is an example of which type of specification? *

3 / 3

☒ Brand name

☐ Exact name

☐ Market form

☐ Place of origin

Add individual feedback

✓ Maine lobster is an example of which type of specification? *

3 / 3

☐ Brand name

☒ Place of origin

☐ Exact name

☐ Market form

Add individual feedback

✓ Well written product specifications prevent purchasers from receiving low-quality or wrong items. *

3 / 3

☒ True

☐ False

Add individual feedback