

Policy on Monitoring Institutional Performance

(New Policy First Reading June 2013)

The Commission's responsibility is to determine whether an institution is in compliance with Eligibility Requirements, Accreditation Standards and Commission policies and to assist institutions, through established procedures, in the improvement of quality.

Commission Monitoring of Institutional Performance

In support of its purposes, the Commission applies a set of annual monitoring and evaluation approaches that assess an institution's continued compliance with Eligibility Requirements, Accreditation Standards and Commission policies, and that take into account institutional strengths and stability. Such annual monitoring will include, but not be limited to:

- Headcount enrollment data
- Collection and analysis of key data and indicators of student achievement and student learning
- Collection and analysis of key data and indicators of fiscal stewardship and stability
- Such other elements as determined by the Commission

Responsibility of the Institution

It is the responsibility of the institution to inform the Commission of any circumstance that significantly impacts the institution's operational, academic and student service, or fiscal strength and stability or its compliance with Eligibility Requirements, Accreditation Standards and Commission policies.
